“Your advice and assistance on the phone were invaluable in making choices on how the night should run and on food selections. You were so easy to deal with and so pleasant on the phone, you are a credit to your company.

The food was delicious and there was certainly the right amount. People commented on the quality of everything that was handed around.

I absolutely cannot gush enough about how fabulous Maxine was. She was calm and reassuring, something a host needs when their house is full of guests!”
